

Advanced Digital Communication Lab

The Laboratory is furnished for 16 seater occupancy. It covers design and verification of the basic concepts of digital communication systems that operates from lower frequency to GHz range. The lab includes experiments on applications of Digital coding and modulation techniques, Fiber Optic Communication, Characteristics of micro strip and antenna setup.